MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE AN AMICUS CURIAE BRIEF

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (the “Union”) hereby moves this Court pursuant to Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(3) and D.C. Cir. Rule 29(a)(3) for leave to file an amicus curiae brief in the above captioned matter in support of the Defendant/Appellee and affirmance.

The Union and its members have an interest in the disposition of this case because the decision directly affects its members, workers who make up the backbone of their communities. The Union was founded in 1936 to protect civil service jobs, fight against political patronage, and ensure fair wages and safe workplaces. About AFSCME: History, AFSCME, <https://www.afscme.org/about/history> (last visited Nov. 21, 2022). Today, the Union represents the interests of over one million workers who “provide the vital services that make America happen, [including] ... nurses, corrections officers, child care providers, emergency medical technicians, and sanitation workers.” Questions & Answers About AFSCME, 3, 12 (2017), AFSCME, <https://www.afscme.org/about/AFSCME-WMAH-QA-Booklet.pdf>. The Union advocates on behalf of its members to ensure their wages, benefits, and position in the workplace are level with the critical work they perform.

The Union takes an interest in a wide range of issues that affect their members, from adequate compensation, to discrimination in the work place, to economic security. See, e.g., Amici Curiae Brief of Inter Faculty Organization, Minnesota Nurses Association of Professional Employees, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Council 5, Minnesota State College Faculty, State Residential School Educational Association, and Middle Management Association, O'Neill v. Schowalter, Minn. Dist. Ct., (62-CV-20-5865) (2021) (arguing that overturning the 2.5% raise to all state employees would cause substantial prejudice to the tens of thousands of employees who have relied on the challenged pay increases for months); Brief of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations as Amicus Curiae in Support of the Employees, Bostock v. Clayton County, Georgia, 590 US __ (2020) (No. 17-1618) (arguing that it should be unlawful for employers to discriminate against any worker with respect to their sexual orientation); Brief of Amici Curiae Communications Workers of America, Service Employees International Union, American Federation of Teachers, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees and National Employment Law Project in Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Dismiss, Jones v. U.S. SCRIBE OPCO, INC. d/b/a/ BIC GRAPHIC, M.D. Fla. Tampa Div. (No. 20-cv-02945-VMC-SPF) (2022) (arguing that the "natural disaster" exception to the Warn Act's 60-day notice requirement before a mass layoff does not apply to the COVID-19 pandemic).

The Union has an interest in this case because the Union and its members need unhindered access for themselves and the public to the incorporated standards posted by Public.Resource.Org, Inc. in order to competently engage in discussions about the standards that govern their workplaces and duties, to negotiate with management for safer workplaces, and to ensure they are performing their duties as required by law. The posting of the standards by Public.Resource.Org. improves Union members' ability to access the standards they need.

The Union's brief is desirable in order to inform the Court of the Union's members' need for free and unhindered access to the incorporated standards to empower workers to competently engage in discourse about the laws that govern their workplaces and duties, to negotiate with management for safer workplaces, and to ensure they are performing their duties as required by law. The Union's brief is relevant because the District Court's decision that Public.Resource.Org's posting of standards constituted fair use rests in part on a finding that the use of the standards promotes public debate, JA__ (Dkt-239-26), and provides information essential to comprehending one's legal duties, JA__ (Dkt-239-27).
